From 25 May 2018, you will have several enhanced rights in relation to how we use your information, including the right to obtain a transferable copy of certain data to which can be transferred to another provider, is known as “the right to data portability”.

This right applies where personal information is being processed based on consent or for performance of a contract and the processing is carried out by automated means. You are not able to obtain through the data portability right all of the personal information that you can obtain through the right of access. Therefore, depending on the technology involved, we may not be able to receive personal data transferred to us and we will not be responsible for the accuracy of same.

The right also permits the transfer of data directly to another provider where technically feasible.

Please see our Account Switching FAQ link - <https://www.bankofireland.com/help-centre/faq-tag/account-switching/> section of our website to complete this request.
